SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1892.

INDISCREET AND IMPOLITIC.

We regret to read in one of our Statuary papers a dispatch from Barbour county claiming that the overwhelming defeat of Capt. Kolb is a victory over the Alliance. The result in that county shows that this is not so. While Governor Jones beat Kolb very badly in the town of Eufaula, still the result shows that Kolb got one hundred and sixteen votes in that town, not one of whom is probably an Allianceman. It is said the Governor has beaten Kolb nearly four to one in the county of Barbour. If this be so it is necessarily the fact that Gov. Jones got a heavy vote among the farmers, many of whom were Alliancemen. In Jefferson Kolb got a very large vote in Birmingham among men who do not belong to the Alliance. In Marion county, on the contrary, the dispatches tell us the Alliancemen of that county went almost solidly for Jones and against Kolb. And so it has been throughout the State and it will be unfair to say that the defeat of Kolb is a defeat of the Alliance. It is moreover impolitic. The Alliance embraces many of our most patriotic farmers and as staunch Democrats as we have in the land. These men will be called to and they will support the nominees of the Democratic party in the State. They have shown themselves to be proof against all temptations to lead them out of the party into the ranks of the Third party. Mr. Kolb is making his own race, and his defeat can on no account be charged as a defeat of the Alliance. In Jefferson he distinctly disclaimed running on the Alliance platform and the they formulated a platform for him that was antagonistic to the three objectionable planks of the Cocala platform. It is a straight race of Jones and Kolb. Jones asking to endorse him, as is the custom of the party, for a second term and Kolb asking the voters to nominate him now because he was strong in the last convention. The farmers have nothing to do with it, except to vote like other people and they are dividing between the two men like other people do. Let us not create further inharmony in the party by claims that a victory for either is a victory over the people who do not belong to it. We are all Democrats and white men, anxious for the welfare of the State and we will all be found together when the party has put up its nominees, if we have discretion, prudence and mutual forbearance over temporary differences of opinion.

A man is morally bound to be honest politically as well as otherwise. A man can't be on both sides of a public question and at the same time be truthful and candid. The people should watch the men who are one thing with one class of voters and another thing with another class of voters.

We dislike three classes of office-seekers, to-wit: The double-faced fellow; the political coward who is afraid of his shadow, and the political rascal who will delude the people with hopes that he can accomplish things he knows at the time are impossible of accomplishment.

It is not every man who promises to do the most for the farmers, who will do it. Promises are easily made and men who intend to keep their word are not prodigal of their promises. Men are to be best judged by their past acts. The farmers will not be quick to throw away old friends who have stood by them through thick and thin for men who readily promise all things to all men and who agree always with the company they happen to be in.

The Third party has reached alarming proportions in Georgia and Congressman Livingston has made appointments for speaking to check it. Thanks to the patriotism of the farmers of Calhoun it has no foothold here. What the proposed convention called by Mr. Adams at Birmingham may develop of it in other parts of the State remains to be seen.

Where a man who is seeking public favor has held an office, it is competent for the people to enquire whether or not he has faithfully done the work that it involved. If he has not, they may well question his right to ask renewed confidence at their hands.

Those were wise words Gov. Jones spoke for white unity at Clayton in Barbour county.

Some people advised their friends to stay away from the polls two years ago and not vote. Strange to say this advice was heeded, and now they are sniveling because the number of delegates to the state convention is cut down. It is the fault of their own silly advice, not of the State Committee. For the past twenty years the democratic vote for governor has been the basis for representation, and on that basis alone has the representation to the state convention been cut down. These same self appointed guardians of the people are now crying out fraud and asking to have the prejudices of the people because themselves followed their silly advice. To these men we say don't blame others for your own silly acts.—Ronoke Herald.

THE THIRD PARTY.

READ THE PLATFORM IT ASKS OUR PEOPLE TO ENDORSE.

The Worst Yet—It Will Find Little Favor Here.

The following is the third party platform in full:

"In order to restrain the extortions of aggregated capital, to drive the money changers out of the temple, to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves and posterity, we do ordain and establish the following platform of principles:

"1. We declare the union of the labor forces of the United States this day accomplished, permanent and perpetual. May its spirit enter into all hearts for the salvation of the republic and the uplifting of mankind.

"2. Wealth belongs to him who creates it. Every dollar taken from industry without an equivalent is robbery. If any will not work, neither shall he eat." The interests of rural and urban labor are the same; their enemies are identical.

"3. We demand a national currency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and that without the use of banking corporations, a just equitable and efficient means of distribution direct to the people shall be established, at a tax not to exceed 2 per cent, as set forth in the sub-treasury plan of the farmers' alliance, or some better system. Also by payments in discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

"4. We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver.

"5. We demand that the amount of circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

"6. We demand a graduated income tax.

"7. We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all national and state revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered.

"8. We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people and to facilitate exchange.

"9. The land, including all the natural sources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

"10. Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people.

"11. The telegraph and telephone, like the post-office system, being a necessity for transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

"12. WE DEMAND THAT THE GOVERNMENT ISSUE LEGAL TENDER NOTES AND PAY THE UNION SOLDIERS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE PRICE OF THE DEPRECIATED MONEY IN WHICH THEY WERE PAID IN GOLD."

The Peace of the White Race.

These are not times when Democrats can afford to trifle with the peace of the great white race. A crisis has arisen in its history. No true Democrat can face the fires his pathway to office.

These fair women, these little children, these school houses, this altar of justice, these churches, the memory of our past sacrifices, and all the proud hopes that beckon us to a glorious future cry out "God for us." The weal or woe of the generations yet unborn, depends upon the unity and success of the Democratic Party of Alabama. Shatter it or rend it in twain, and all the woes of our past will be bright compared to the future which awaits us. What man shall deem himself so great or so low that he will consciously be made the instrument to work out our ruin?

"Men are nothing. If there is nothing in this contest but the personal ambition of Reuben F. Kolb and Thos. G. Jones, it would be better for the State that the lightning should strike them down than that either of them should strike the blow that will break down the walls of our civilization, which can be guarded only by an united white race. No extremity can drive me to take the party by the throat, no matter how wrong I might deem a decision against me. Whatever the voice of the party uttered by those whom the party appoints to speak for it, I will heed and obey it.

"If my competitor cannot see his duty as I see mine, the people will surely judge between us. The verdict of Barbour county, if it speaks for me, will end this long contest, which involves so much, and where one of the contestants himself threatens to destroy the party rather than submit to its decision."—Gov. Jones at Clayton.

NEARLY ALL FOR JONES.

Last Week's County Convention.

The following returns from the various counties is taken from the Birmingham Age-Herald of April 5th.

BARBOUR COUNTY.

EUFALUA, April 4.—Governor Jones carried beat 1 with nine delegates, beat 2 with nineteen, beat 4 with twelve, beat 5 with forty-six, beat 9 with eight, beat 15 with three, and beat 7 with twenty-three, giving Jones 120 out of a total of 167. No other beats have yet been heard from.

In Eufaula beat, Kolb's home, Jones received 395, Kolb 115. This means Jones for governor and Oates for congress. The election passed off with no disturbance. Eufaula beat elected a new executive committee, with J. G. Guice as chairman.

JACKSON COUNTY.

SCOTTSDALE, April 4.—The county convention assembled at 1 o'clock today, with Hon. R. C. Hunt as permanent chairman. Jones had 80, Kolb, but the four Kolb men, being in a hopeless minority, declined to participate in the convention. There were no contests, and great harmony prevailed.

MARION COUNTY.

GUIN, April 4.—Returns have just been received at this city of the beat meetings held on the 2d instant in this county. They are as follows:

Hamilton, the county seat, everything solid for Jones and Bankhead; Winfield went solid for Jones and Bankhead; Beaxar and L'villekeye, solid for Jones and Bankhead. So far as has been heard from, Kolb only received the well-wishes of eight men in the whole county. Even the alliancemen all voted for Jones and Bankhead.

AUTAUGA COUNTY.

PRATTVILLE, April 4.—All the precincts in Autauga county have been heard from, and give Jones a big majority. This county will send a solid Jones delegation to the state convention.

Several precincts instruct for Jones. Liberty precinct split and will send Kolb and Jones delegations to the county convention. Nearly every beat in the county went for Wilkinson for probate judge. The big fight now will be for the sheriff's office.

CRENSHAW COUNTY.

Luvner, April 4.—Jones carries beats 5, 6, 7, 12 and 14, having fifty-seven delegates to the county convention. Kolb carries beats 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 11 and 13, having a vote of sixty-four in the convention. The eight delegates from beat 10, claimed to be from beat 10, claimed for Jones, will be contested. The county is safe for Stallings for congress and Gamble for judge. It was a hot fight, but all friendly. The convention has 120 delegates.

PERKINS COUNTY.

Washington, April 1.—An important conference of the Farmers' Alliance members of the House was held last night. The conference considered the financial situation, including the matter of silver legislation. After some discussion a bill was prepared by Representative Livingston, of Georgia, which with some modification, was adopted unanimously and will be introduced in the House at the first opportunity. The bill provides as follows:

The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed upon the demand of any State, expressed through its Governor, to issue to it full legal tender notes of the government of like dimensions as the Treasury notes now issued and in circulation and non interest bearing.

These notes are not to exceed in amount $89 per capita of population of the State as expressed in the census preceding the demand.

The State making the demand for notes is to deliver to the Secretary of the Treasury its lawful bond to the full amount of Government notes demanded and such bonds are to be taxable at 1 per cent. per annum, said tax to be covered in the United States Treasury, on or before the 1st day of April of each year.

The bonds are to fall due at the expiration of twenty years.

It is provided, however, that the State taking advantage of the act shall have the right to turn over to the Secretary of the Treasury the full amount, or any part thereof of Government notes issued to it at any time before the bonds fall due, or in lieu of the bonds due, or in the case of its intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that such proof will be made before the Clerk of the Circuit Court, at Jacksonville, Ala., on May 14, 1892, viz.: Newton Teague, Homestead entry, No. 10357, for the E1/2 of NW1/4 Sec. 25 Township 14, range 7, taxes for 1891, 1.70; costs 1.70; advertising 1.05; total 3.35.

SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1892.

Pickens county has gone for Jones.

Chilton with five delegates has gone for Kolb.

Wilcox county Convention Wednesday instructed her fifteen delegates for Jones.

The Age-Heralds table of delegates so far elected to the State Convention reads, Jones 202, Kolb 89.

Artful Dodgers are not going to meet with great success politically this year. The people love bold and candid men.

The renomination of Congressman Oates is now assured, enough of the counties of his district having elected Oates delegates to the Congressional Convention to assure that result.

The rumor has been current that the County Alliance at Nances Creek made county nominations.

We have told by Alliancemen who are truthful and trustworthy gentlemen that this is a mistake.

The editors took a flying trip to the upper end of the County Tuesday. They are solid up that way for straight Democracy and the Third Party wont have half a dozen followers in Piedmont and Ladiga seats.

The press of the State has mentioned Dr. B. D. Williams most flatly for the position of Presidential elector in the coming fall election. He is a polished and capable speaker and a thorough Democrat and we sincerely hope the honor will be conferred upon him. He filled with entire credit a most important federal position by appointment of President Cleveland.

A correspondent of the Hot Blast from Nances Creek represents that the Third Party men were in majority at the Alliance meeting in Nances Creek valley. Our information is different. The third party element was small. The great majority of the Alliancemen of the county are going to stand by the Democratic party. A third party will no doubt be formed in Calhoun, but it will number only a few hundred voters.

MR. EDWARD:—It has been a long time since your readers have heard anything from me. To such I want to say that I am still here and a kicking. I'm still standing right in the middle of the democratic platform. I'm for Cleveland for President and for Jones for Governor. That shows plank enough that the Third party need not expect any support from me, and that I consider the Ocalas platform made of such rotten material, that it is dangerous to stand on, and if a man of my avaricious, democratically, should step on it he would break through and skin his shins. When a candidate is asked whether he is for Jones or Kolb and whether he is for the Ocalas platform, replies that he is for himself and his twelve children for Congress, it looks very much like he belongs to the Knownnothing order, and like he wishes the people of this Congressional District to send a man to Congress with whom they are totally unacquainted, politically. We will be at sea to know whether he will vote with the Democrats, the Republicans or the Third party. We would rather know which side a man is before we vote for him. And besides this fishing with a hook at each end of the pole, for one kind of votes at one end and another kind at the other end ain't safe, and my friend above alluded to would do well to beware, lest a strong bite on the front hook cause the other to fly up and hang in the rear of his pantaloons with such force as to land him head foremost into a political mud puddle, that he will be in poor plight, to represent any body in anything.

Well, that's my opinion. If a candidate is a democrat he ought to say so, and if he is a republican he ought to say so, and then we common folk will know exactly who we are voting for.

Let the candidates trot out till half the county are candidates, but I for one will not vote for a single one of them, who will in answer to a direct question, as to where he is, and where he may be found when he is needed, say, "I decline to answer."

And there is just lots of men of all political creeds, that are ready to say and will say both in convention and election "me too Pete." The man who represents this Congressional District always has been, and always will be required to not only say but prove whether he is "pig or possum." So squeal out, gentlemen, and let the people know exactly on what platform you stand, or you'll never see the inside of the halls of congress, except at your own expense.

A Difficulty Between Candidate Burns and Mr. Stewart.

STANTON, April 13.—At Dixie this afternoon while the people were voting in the Democratic primary, Jno. F. Burns, candidate for Congress became involved in personal difficulty with Mr. Wm. Stewart.

Mr. Burns used some ugly epithets towards Mr. Stewart, and this brought them to blows. The latter was too much for Mr. Burns, knocking him down, Mr. Burns, arose with his knife and stabbed Stewart in the back inflicting an ugly wound.

Mr. Burns was arrested and placed under bond for his appearance to the

WILL THEY ANSWER?

A Few Pertinent Questions Propounded to Congressional Aspirants.

From Anniston Hot Blast.

To Hon. L. W. Grant and Dr. M. H. Lane.

GENTLEMEN.—It is generally known that both of you are aspirants for congress from this district. Will each of you please answer a few questions. You can publish the answers in the Hot Blast, and none but short and pointed replies will satisfy:

1. Who is your choice for Governor, Kolb or Jones?

2. How do you stand on the Ocalas demands?

3. Do you not think it best to have two white man's parties in this section?

Yours,
ALLIANCEMAN.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Apr. 12, '92.

EDITOR HOT BLAST.—Replying to the above proper inquires from Allianceman in your issue of this morning I beg leave to say:

1. I am for Gov. Jones, because I believe he has made a capable and faithful Governor and because it is Democratic usage in Alabama to give to State officials who have come up to the Jeffersonian standard the compliment of a second nomination.

2. Some of the Ocalas demands are such as every patriot and Democrat can endorse; but I do not approve of what is known as the three objectionable features of these demands, to wit: The sub-treasury and land loan bills and government ownership of railroad and telegraph lines. In company with General Forney, our member of Congress, I have stumped the county against these features of the Ocalas platform and have endeavored to impress our Alliance friends with the danger of their tendency toward centralization of power in the Federal government and consequent ultimate loss of liberty to the people.

3. I believe no greater calamity could befall the South than a division of the white people. Our very civilization depends on white unity. Respectfully,

L. W. GRANT.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are regularly in the Constitution, curing and regulating the complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they have not the first flower of Christianity.

"Upon a great Christian anniversary like Good Friday, it is often difficult to find in the records of current events anything that very distinctly shows the influence of Christianity upon international conduct. Now, however, we have to chronicle what is one of the most benignant and gracious forms of diplomatic action. This is the amicable settlement of the dispute between Italy and the United States. This is not the most precious, because Blaine was perhaps quite the first flower of Christianity."

"Italy is in a state too far apart from the United States for the breaking off of diplomatic relations to produce very serious consequences, but the Italians nevertheless will be gratified upon the concession of their demands and upon securing a genuine diplomatic triumph."

The Daily Graphic, under the caption "Blaine's latest surrender," says that the result established an important precedent, in which the Italian government is interested. It established the responsibility of the government of the United States for the safety of strangers within her gates, no matter how the local authorities may act.

WORK IN CONGRESS.

THE MOST IMPORTANT MATTERS CULLED AND CONDENSED.

Notable Events in the Legislative and Executive Branches of the National Government

Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In the senate, Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, introduced a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information in regard to the silver question in every phase.

Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The house, on motion of Peet of Arkansas, declined to concur in the senate amendments to the Indian appropriations bill. Messrs. Peet, Allen and Wilson, of Washington, were appointed conferees on the bill. The house then went into a committee of the whole, O'Farrell of Virginia, in the chair, on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill. Taking up the scope given by general debate, Mr. Bland brought up the question by sounding the clerk's desk and having read a letter of Senator Palmer's to a Chicago paper, in which he declares that the Bland bill is not a free coinage measure. After Mr. Bland had spoken some time in defense of his silver bill, the committee rose and the deficiency bill was passed. It appropriates $1,012,636.

Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—In the senate, Mr. Doherty, from the committee on foreign relations, reported back to the house a bill for the absolute exclusion of the Chinese, with the senate bill substituted for it, and has given notice that he will call it up as soon as possible.

Mr. Dailey called up the bill in the house to grant the right-of-way through the Indian territory to the Gainesville, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad company. The bill of no quorum was made. The roll call resulted in years 130, nays 2. There was no quorum and a call of the house was ordered.

Thursday.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—In the senate, at the close of the routine morning business, in the course of which the resolutions of the Boston merchants, favoring the repeal of the silver law of 1890, were presented, the calendar was taken up.

Friday.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The speaker laid before the house the bill to promote the safety of national banks, with a senate amendment thereto. Mr. Bacon, of New York, in charge of the measure, not being present, a request was made that the bill be permitted to remain upon the speaker's table, but to this Mr. Bland objected, and upon his motion, the bill was referred to the committee on banking and currency, which action, in the opinion of the advocates of the measure, means its defeat. Private business was then proceeded with.

Saturday.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—In the house, this morning, on motion of Mr. Terry, of Arkansas, a militia bill was passed for the establishment of a national guard, and must be submitted to the senate. It is to be submitted to the senate.

Mr. Bland, of Georgia, has introduced a bill to prohibit the use of the silver law of 1890.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1892.

Judge Randolph of Montgomery was renominated for Probate Judge in the County Convention Wednesday on the first ballot.

With the coming of May we shall probably have much political speaking in the county. The voters want to know where the candidates stand on public questions.

Gov. Jones, it is said, will make some speeches in Calhoun during the month of May. Capt. Kolb is also billed for speeches in the county the same month.

The Executive Committee of the Georgia State Alliance requested editor Irwin of the State Alliance to resign because he was advocating the Third party through the columns of the paper. Irwin refuses to resign.

We return thanks for an invitation to attend the Military Tournament and Rifle Match, at Selma, May, 5th, under auspices of the Dallas Light Dragoons. The program will consist of Tournament, rifle match and blue rock shoot.

Discussing the brief but comprehensive platform of Dr. Lane, to wit: "I am for myself," our correspondent P. H. B., of Piedmont, "drops into poetry" thusly:

"Of all my father's family
I like myself the best;
So Providence provides for me,
The devil take the rest."

Livingston went from Washington to Georgia to warn the Alabamians of the danger of the Third party movement. Mr. L. L. Polk followed him to spell the effect of his work in the interest of the Democratic party, and yet but a few weeks ago Polk was loudly claiming that he was one of the old Jeffersonian kind of Democrats.

The Pitts Committee in Shelby County met in Columbus the 20th inst., and formally disbanded, after denouncing the Democratic party. It is said a third party will be formed in Shelby. It will be remembered Shelby had two Executive Committees, both claiming to be regular. The last State Convention recognized the McMillian Committee as the regular one.

Democrats of Calhoun: Do your duty by going to the beat meetings the 14th of next month. Discourage third partyism in Calhoun by a show of your strength on that day. There is not a single precinct in Calhoun the organized Democracy cannot easily carry if the conservative Democratic farmers of the county will give one part of that day to their country. Remember white division means ruin to every interest. A stitch in time saves nine.

To Doctor Lane candidate for congress: You cannot ride two horses in this campaign. The people, both sides of the people, want to know how you stand on the issues of the day. "Don't be a clam!"—Hot Blast 22d inst.

Those closest to the genial doctor say he has decided not to answer or be drawn out either in the newspapers or on the stump; but he is bold to say he will tell the people exactly where he stands after they have nominated him. For this much contumacious the people ought certainly to be grateful.

How does this do for a broad and patriotic platform for a Congressional candidate?

1. I am for myself for Congress.

2. I want the office for the money there is in it.

Not one word in it about relief to a suffering people; not one word as to the correction of abuses in Government under which the people groan. It is all for self and nothing for country. How many times do you think Col. Caldwell or Gen. Forney would have been returned to Congress on such a platform as that?

We have heard it stated that Mr. Adams' question in the Alliance gathering at Nance's Creek, was not

"What has the Republican or Democratic parties done for the people in the last 20 years," but was

"Which has done the more for the people, the Democratic or Republican parties."

This latter shape of the question very materially changes its import. It is such a question as might be very properly propounded in any gathering of people where politics is discussed.

The Clanton county convention was composed almost wholly of Alliancemen. Clanton has all along been conceded to Kolb and Burns. When the convention met, the dispatches say, the convention summoned Bro. Burns before it and informed him that it was reported that he had been running on the platform that he was for "Burns for Congress," and they wanted him to pronounce more definitely his position. Thereupon he frankly confessed that he stood upon the Ocalia platform, and then, and not till then, they gave him the delegation. Those Alliancemen very sensibly thought that a man's platform which reads: "I am for myself," was entirely too narrow for them or any body else to stand on except the proposed beneficiary.

The organization of the Third party in Alabama has actively begun under the direction of one manning, recently from Georgia. He succeeded in getting the Jefferson county Alliances to commit itself to the third party and announces his purpose to visit other county Alliances throughout the State and prosecute his work of dividing the white Democrats of Alabama. At the 30th of May convention, called by Mr. Adams at Birmingham, the Third party will be formed and a State ticket be nominated; if all political signs do not fail. This is the logical result of the agitation of the Ocalia demands, and was foreseen by the Democratic press months ago. Hence the opposition of the Democratic press of the State to that portion of the demands on which a disagreement and split of the Democracy was likely to occur. The newspapers which have opposed these demands have done so in the interest of white unity in the South and the integrity of the Democratic party in the Union and directly in the interest of the farmers and working people who are suffering from the effects of Republican legislation, and not out of any spirit of opposition to the farmers. A divided Democracy means the perpetuation of Republican rule. The perpetuation of Republican rule means the continued slavery of the working classes to the money power.

The Anniston Hot Blast of the 21st inst., contains an extended notice of the marriage of Mr. J. J. Willard and Miss Melaine Woods, both of Anniston. The bride is a niece of Hon. Jno. M. McElroy. The groom is known throughout Alabama as one of the most brilliant and promising young lawyers in the State. Numerous friends here wish congratulations to the happy couple.

It is probable that Col. Caldwell of this place and Solicitor Joe H. King of Anniston will deliver addresses on decoration day. Our talented young Mayor will receive the visiting companies with an appropriate speech of welcome.

Talking of it in Dallas.

The Selma Evening Journal, edited by a member of the Dallas county Congressional delegation, discussing the situation in the New Fourth District has this to say of matters in Calhoun:

"Matters up in Calhoun will be of an especial interest to our readers. Dr. M. H. Lane and Hon. L. W. Grant are the two candidates. Lane will be remembered for his card withdrawn from the race some time ago but it was all for a blind and he is now a full fledged candidate."

Discussing the questions propounded to Messrs Lane and Grant through the Hot Blast, the same writer says: "The first question of "Alliance-ism" is indeed impertinent and entirely foreign to the issue but the last two could easily be answered and should be fully known before a selection of a congressman is made to the next congress."

If either Senators Morgan or Pugh should die or be assigned cabinet position or a place on the supreme bench, the Governor would have to appoint a U. S. Senator to succeed him. Mr. Kolb, (when he is with the farmers,) stands on the Ocalia platform. Gov. Jones does not. The presumption is that it is either elected and should have the appointment of a U. S. Senator, he would appoint a man of views in consonance with his own on this question; and it was this view of the case probably that led to the question. At any rate we see no reason why a man with an opinion of his own cannot answer it.

A New Basis Proposed.

The Age-Herald, which as a general proposition, is a fair as well as able exponent of democratic doctrine, says that the delegations to the congressional conventions should be based upon the vote polled for congressman and never on that of the gubernatorial election. We are not in position to refute its position, and must admit that the trouble, expense, difficulties and hard work required to carry a seat or county for congress transcend without comparison the efforts necessary in state election. Gen. Pettus wrote an extraordinary letter some two years ago, urging the census basis even in state affairs. It appears to us that he was correct, and that it is, and will prove to be the only way to maintain harmony between the white and black counties—Selma Times.

The following table shows how matters would stand, on the basis of the Congressional vote.

RECENT DISTRICT.

COUNTIES.	Guber. Gubr.	Cong. Vote.	Cong. Total.	Cong. Del.
Chilton	1,229	5	350	1
Calhoun	1,229	8	2,516	7
Shelby	1,608	7	1,608	3
Blount	2,015	7	671	2
Total	5,052	28	1,338	5
	17,301	57	7,963	20

Hon. J. D. Barren, Secretary of State, is a candidate for re-nomination to that office. He is entitled to it under the precedents of the party. He was appointed by Gov. Seay to succeed the lamented Langdon, and having filled out that unexpired term, he was re-nominated and elected. The same precedent operates in his favor that gives his duty faithfully and well, a second nomination. He has been in the office for many years as chief clerk, and it was his efficiency in that capacity, coupled with his high character, that gave him the appointment. Birmingham Age-Herald.

A NEW PLAN Proposed by an Honest Calhoun County Farmer.

MR. EDITOR:—I have an idea in the way of relief. Say that we have an established price on all produce that we raise—say good middling cotton 10 cents per pound, and no more for debt or cash and come 75 cents per bushel.

Believing that the farmers are the life of the world, then let the life rule the world. Let each state be sovereign of its own. Say we have a sub-treasury bank in each State to the value of what it raises. Say the Government allows each State the right to strike sub-treasury notes at one per cent; then the State can loan at two per cent, which will pay all cost of the bank. Let the notes be called in at the expiration of each year, and new notes struck for the next year; let this year provide for the next; let money be short-lived. Then let the State loan at two per cent to all who will make a good note. Say they shall be sworn before a legal officer and that he or she may have a loan to the amount of half the value of their property, if they want that much money. Let all laborers have an established price on their wages, not to run over the rate paid the farmer. I think that would give us relief and plenty of money. Then upset National banks and Normal schools for they are no good to the poor. Then tax all property alike. That will give equal rights to all—special favors to none. Then farmers can pay as much for labor as any one. That will end speculation and put all to work alike and stop further speculation on farming trusts and the laborers. Whenever an officer fails to do what we want done, discharge him at once without any pay and let him know that the people hire him to do the work they want done—not let him act as a god, but act as a hired hand.

We find office-seekers all over the land, but we are commanded to watch as well as pray who you vote for. Times is hard and the vote is the best or worst days work that we do. When we hire a hand we want him to do what we tell him to do. We do not want him if he can't work that way. So watch for a good man, for we need relief.

J. M. BRADLEY

THE TIME FOR ACTION.

"An ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure," is an old adage that is none the less true and wise because it is old. It will be much easier to prevent the formation of a formidable third party or independent political opposition in Alabama, than to break it up after it is once formed. We have never mistrusted the honesty, patriotism or democracy of the white farmers of this State, and while we have seen many of them led into belief in wrong doctrines of finance, we have steadily adhered to the opinion that all that is needed is the preaching of the true doctrine by men whom they trust. From some unaccountable cause the Democratic leaders have hesitated to take the stump and lead the people right. They have been active enough in the campaign in their own counties, but as teachers from the hustings their numbers have been very limited. And what counsel the people have had been delivered in the cities where the will theories and ill considered ways of relief never did have a foothold. The result in the opening county of this campaign, this county of Jefferson, told the story of where the work should be done.

In all seriousness, the time has come. In the campaign between Jones and Kolb, the Governor has been left almost alone to battle among the country communities. He could go to only a limited number. The inevitable result has been that the white districts back from the railroads have adhered by overwhelming majorities, not so much to Captain Kolb, but to the principles of relief they believe him to represent.

That cause, as exemplified in him, has gone down in irretrievable disaster before the majority of the people as a whole. Now many thousands of the white farmers of the State are turning elsewhere and are about to land in the People's party; nay, are already landing there. And all because the leaders of the Alliance have been their only teachers and scarcely any other voice has been raised in their hearing. Once landed in the People's party, they will be a disturbing element for a long time to come.

The time to combat this new organization is now while it is forming. Keep men from going into it. Between now and the labor conference of May 30 is the time to work. Governor Jones cannot do it all. Go help him.

Between now and May 30 an enormous amount of work will be done in the interest of the People's party. Every nerve will be strained to prepare the Alliance people for the organization of that party. The Clay county evangel, Manning, will take the field at once. He will go forth with credentials from men whom the Alliance people trust, from Polk himself. You would not think to look at him that he could revolutionize politics, but in these restless times that one boyish youngster can do harm that years cannot wholly do away. He will not be by himself. He is the mere precursor, the forerunner of a host of others. Mr. Adams is as heartily at work as though he were already publicly declared for a new party. Gaither is moving fast.

Now is the time, Democrats, for every one of you who can, "orate it from the stump" to do so. Meet these men who would continue to harm us with strife, and beat them back ere their foothold is gained.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

POLITICAL.

TALLAPOOSA COUNTY.
Tallapoosa county gives Jones & Kolb 3. The county was divided off into executive districts by the County Executive Committee. The committee was favorable to Kolb.

ESCAMBIA COUNTY FOR JONES.

BRENTON, April 17.—The beat meetings held throughout the county yesterday were the largest ever held. Of the fifty-eight delegates to the county convention thirty-four are for Jones and twenty-four for Kolb.

THE RACE FOR SOLICITOR.

Talladega, April 16.—B. F. Wilson, Esq., who has very successfully filled the office of prosecuting attorney for Talladega county, has decided to enter the race for solicitor of this, the Seventh Judicial circuit. Mr. Wilson is a thoroughly equipped lawyer, and would make an excellent circuit solicitor. At the outset of his candidacy he needs with great encouragement.

REPUTATING POLITICS.

The Farmers' Alliance was founded on the declaration that there should be no politics in its organization. The course of the alliance throughout its career has not been in harmony with this, while the recent endorsement of the third party by many sub-alliances in Georgia has been a flagrant violation.

The executive committee of the alliance has taken a bold stand in calling upon these sub-alliances to renounce their third party action. The committee's course is clearly right under the constitution and charter of the alliance, but what will be the effect of their call upon the sub-alliances remains to be seen. Their action is set out in the following preamble and resolution.

Whereas, The following action has been taken by the supreme council of the National Alliance, to-wit:

"No alliance can in any way pledge or dictate by a vote thereof how its individual members shall vote, neither can it declare itself a faction of a political party;" therefore be it

Resolved, That we respectfully urge upon the sub-alliances and county alliances that have passed resolutions committing themselves to any political party whatever to rescind such action, and thereby place themselves in the true position of loyal allianceen as indicated by the above quoted action of the supreme council.—Augusta Chronicle.

PEOPLES' PARTY ENDORSED.

The Jefferson County Alliance Takes The Fatal Step.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 15.—News comes from the meeting of the Jefferson county Farmers' Alliance held at Fairview yesterday, that the Peoples' party was endorsed, with only two dissenting votes. The meeting was a full one every sub-Alliance being represented. The resolutions say that the Alliance is non political, but they recommend that their members vote with the Peoples' party. The St. Louis platform was swallowed bodily and a delegate was elected to the alleged State Labor conference to be held here May 30, for the purpose of endorsing or rejecting the St. Louis platform. This action is regarded as important, as Jefferson county has many members in the Alliance. Many other counties are taking similar action.

Decoration Day.

Decoration day has heretofore been observed in Jacksonville in the simplest and most unostentatious manner by the pupils of the Normal school repairing to the graves of the Confederate dead in our cemetery and laying flowers thereon. This year, at the last moment, it was decided to have the general public participate in these exercises and the program will be more extended, but owing to lack of time, necessarily not so elaborate as might be desired. Invitations were sent to the military and the Coosa River Association and the Tallahatchee Association have passed resolutions granting letters to such churches as desired to enter the proposed organization, and several churches have also taken action looking to that end, sufficient to guarantee its success. The undersigned, therefore unite in calling a meeting for organization at Jacksonville, Ala., beginning on Friday, May 27, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m. and continuing Saturday and Sunday, thus using the fifth Sunday; and we invite each church desiring to join the association to elect three delegates to attend that meeting. It is proposed to adopt the Constitution and Articles of Faith at this first session, and as there will be no committees to report, the remainder of the time will be devoted to a general discussion of denominational affairs in the nature of a missionary mass meeting. Representatives of all our boards will be invited to attend and perhaps other brethren from a distance will be with us.

Each church is requested to take a special collection for missions to send up to this meeting, and also to make a contribution for the purpose of publishing the minutes, and to write the customary letter giving statistics of membership and finances of church and Sunday school. The Jacksonville church has kindly invited our first session, and delegates will, as soon as elected, please notify by postal card, Bro. P. D. Ross, clerk of Jacksonville church Fraternally,

The Republican.

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1892.

Let us make the annual decoration of the soldiers' graves a county matter and a permanent affair. It is good to come together and revive the recollection of the time when patriotism ruled the hour.

The Jefferson county Alliance men have rescinded the resolution in which they declared for the third party. They have acted sensibly and become Southern white men. In white unity is the only hope of the South.

Those splendid young Aniston orators, Messrs. King and Pelham, reflected the highest honor on their progressive city in the character of their speeches here on Memorial day, while Jacksonville has equal cause for congratulation over the fine speeches of her veteran soldier, Col. Caldwell, and her brilliant young Mayor, Mr. Arnold.

There will be a meeting of the people at Dilling Spring, in the South-western part of the county, to discuss the issues before the people, on Saturday the 7th day of May. Among the questions to be discussed is whether or not the people should go into the third party. Mr. Grant will go down on that day and present the Democratic side of the case.

The newspaper men of the county were well represented at the Memorial exercises here Tuesday. From the Hot Blast office we had Messrs. Smith, Nunnelee and Stockton; from the Piedmont Inquirer, Mr. Wicks, and from the Oxford Night Hawk that irrepressible Democrat, Ben Quinn. Mr. Bowles, formerly a newspaper man was also in attendance as a member of the military.

Why is the Republican party in Alabama rearning its horrid and venomous head again in nearly every county of the State? Because its leaders see a glimmering hope of again ruling the State, through the division of the Democrats. Those of us in Alabama old enough to have had an experience of the time when black heels were on white necks will protest to the last moment against any division of the white Democrats by which that same condition may again prevail. Be true to the very blood which flows in your veins. White men stand together.

We should have some Democratic speaking in the Choctawhala valley; not because the good people over there particularly need it, but to enthuse them and revive old memories of the glorious time when the white men of Calhoun rose up in their might and, under the inspiration of Democratic enthusiasm, shook from their shoulders the incubus of Radical misrule as easily as the lion shakes the dew drop from his mane. We are again threatened with Radical rule through white division, and Democrats should again kindle the fires upon the Democratic alters in that lovely valley.

With the passing of the Presidential election the financial clouds will roll by and the circulation of money will be largely increased. In the meantime we hope the farmers will make big crops and realize the good prices that will prevail amid the general boom of next winter and spring. During presidential election years money which is the most timid thing in the world, hides itself in the strong boxes of the rich, for its owners always fear a war growing out a disputed election. When the result has been declared and there is general acquiescence, there is a feeling of relief and business resumes its flow.

Some people of limited political sagacity seem to think that elections are to be won by loud claims and much blowing, and they set afloat the most absurd claims of strength. Of this character is the claim that has been made in many parts of the country that Mr. Grant will be beaten in his own precinct by the candidate who won't condescend to tell the people where he stands on public questions. If the people want the truth of the matter they have only to come to Jacksonville and ask the solid Democrats here about it. He will carry this beat in a walk-over. This much is said in the absence of Mr. Grant who is in the western part of the county making Democratic speeches.

Some parties are trying to break the force of Dr. Lane's silence on some questions addressed to Messrs. Grant and Lane through the Hot Blast, by asserting that the questions were written and answered by Mr. Grant at the same time. This is not true. Mr. Grant never saw the questions until they appeared in the Hot Blast. Hot Blast came up on the early morning train the day the questions appeared, as it generally does. Mr. Grant was going off on the 2 o'clock train that day to be gone some days. He clipped the questions from the Hot Blast and wrote his reply at once and mailed it before leaving. The letter went to Aniston that same day and next morning it appeared in the Hot Blast. However, it matters little how the question was asked or who asked it. The people are entitled to know how candidates stand on public questions. One answers promptly. The other does not answer at all.

DECORATION DAY.

THE DAY APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED.

Yesterday will long be remembered by citizens of Calhoun.

Aniston Hot Blast.

Decoration day was appropriately observed in Jacksonville yesterday.

Promptly at 1 p. m., a train containing three hundred people pulled out of the union depot, and thirty minutes later they were wending their way on foot and in vehicles toward Jacksonville's cemetery, where beautiful and appropriate ceremonies were had.

On board the train were the Oxford Rifles, Capt. Orr, commanding Aniston Rifles in command of Capt. Burke and the Woodstock Guards in command of Capt. McJerny. The battalion was in command of Lieut. Col. Caldwell, and they presented a very fine appearance as they marched through the streets of Jacksonville toward the silent city of the dead. In line with them were the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, the whole battalion numbering some one hundred men.

Arriving on the crest of the hill in the cemetery the assembled crowd, numbering some twelve or fifteen hundred people, took their positions around a central stand, when the ceremonies were opened with prayer by Rev. Rogers, of the Methodist church. An organ had been placed on the platform, and some delightful music was rendered. Miss Undine Lane presided at the organ while a quartette of Jacksonville, viz: Mrs. Laddie Bowling and Miss Dolly Lane and Messrs. Stevenson and Hunter rendered most sweetly a song entitled, "Inspire Hear Our Prayer."

After the prayer a quartette from Aniston consisting of Gordon Hall and Ed. Caldwell and Mrs. Joe Adcock and Miss Al Perkins rendered "Sleep on ye Heroes," which was appropriate to the occasion and highly enjoyed.

John Ayers acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the speakers in a most felicitous manner. Jacksonville's handsome and talented young Mayor, Mr. Arnold, delivered an address of welcome, which was eloquent, graceful and highly appreciated by the visiting military and citizens. He welcomed both veteran and novice; those from the field as well as the man of business, and all were made to feel at home. He spoke about those who laid down their lives in defence of their homes and firesides, and referred to the fact that on this day throughout this broad Southern land of ours the people were decking with bright flowers the mounds of Confederate heroes on thousands of hills and vales. Gray haired veterans and the children of veterans had come to do honor to the heroic dead, and he welcomed them in the name of the dead, and all could bend over the mounds and deposit their tributes of love.

J. H. King, of Aniston, was the next orator, and his eloquent words went straight to the hearts of his hearers. He gloried in the fact that he was a Southerner and an Alabamian. He eloquently and touchingly referred to the music of the mocking birds of our Southland being the sweetest that ever fell upon his ear, and the fragrance of the magnolia, the rose and the pine, how delightful to him. He pictured in glowing colors this lovely land of ours, lying between the Coast and the Warrior, and referred touchingly to the land which had produced such beautiful women and gallant men. When the last bayonet was unfixed and the smoke from the last musket had died away and the bonnie blue flag went down at Appomattox, he was a mere child on the old plantation in South Alabama. Although he was not old enough to go his family had given all they had to the Confederacy, Thos. W. Cobb, whose life blood crimsoned the clover blossoms of old Virginia was his uncle, and it was no fault of his father's Judge Porter King, that he went through that bloody strife and came out unscathed.

His historical allusion to Gen. Bee approaching his father and another Captain on the battle field and asking whose command that was, when he found out it was his own, with every officer above the rank of Captain slain or wounded, turned and made that famous remark that has gone into history: "Yonder stands Jackson like a Stonewall," and with the wild, sweet melody of a Southern yell on their lips, they went to Jackson's relief. The speaker then alluded to the fact of that being the proudest moment of his life, when he could stand at the grave of John Pelham, the roar of whose cannon echoed around the world and caused ears and potencies to tremble, and pay his humble tribute to the valor of such men.

Just at this point Mr. King brought in a quotation from Father Ryan's "Land without ruins is a land without memories." From the earliest dawn a nation without monuments to her heroes was considered uncivilized. Thebes and Egypt were illustrious for their monuments and obelisks, and Greece was known by her marble statuary. He drew a beautiful comparison when he said that "by the walls of Babylon they sat down and wept," and compared the loyalty of the Confederacy to that of the children of Israel on that occasion and that patriotism is what caused the survivors of the Confederacy all over this broad land of ours to assemble and pay tribute to the heroes of the lost cause—he, not lost, but engraved forever on memory's tablets. We, too, hang our harps on the willow trees, a defeated, but loyal people, but were proud amid defeat, and gloried in the moment when the ark of Confederacy went down amid the crimson blood of battle—defeated but not conquered. Two million men, 300,000 of them deserters from the Confederacy and 200,000 negroes and the hirelings from every clime confronted the 600,000 Confederate heroes in one of the grandest struggles the world had ever witnessed.

We have not room to give his remarks on the old animosity between the puritan and the cavalier, his allusion to State's rights, etc. The Southern soldier did not need the flowers on their graves to make their names immortal, but was simply a token of appreciation on the part of the living. He then paid a glowing tribute to Pelham, Martin, Crow and others who were buried in the Jacksonville cemetery. He alluded to Martin as "the bravest of the brave," and brought tears to the eyes of many when he told of young Crow, who had fought a gallant battle for every year of his life, as "the fair haired, blue-eyed youth, with a boy's constitution but with the soul almost of a god." He went in imagination with Stewart and Lee to the bier of Pelham. With Lee he exclaimed: "Give me enough John Pelhams and I will stem the battle's red tide of the whole world."

Here the Jacksonville quartette sang "I would not live always," and then Prof. Gibson took the stand and made a few remarks and had the pupils of the Jacksonville Normal School go through so very appropriate exercises, but we have not room to notice as they deserve.

John Pelham, as the representative of the "Galant Pelham" who slept in his glory crowned grave a short distance away, was introduced, and made a manly straightforward speech, that captured the hearts of his hearers. He alluded to the fact of how small he felt in comparison to him who filled the grave nearby, and elicited applause when he said that the man in the ranks deserved as much praise as the general who commanded, for each was fighting for principle. The principles, said he, for which the Confederate soldier contended were the grandest principles that ever inspired the heart of man. He thought the Southern skies the bluest, the Southern fields the greenest, the Southern roses the reddest, Southern men the bravest and Southern women the sweetest, of any on earth. John Pelham's speech, while short, was said to be the best of his life.

At this juncture Col. John H. Caldwell was called for and made a grand speech, but we will not notice it until next issue.

Gen. G. T. Anderson was introduced as a "fighter from fighterville," and responded in a few modest remarks. A beautiful floral offering the tribute of the Aniston Rifles to John Pelham's memory, was borne on the stand by Lieut. R. W. Hunter, of the Rifles, who was a member of Pelham's artillery corps and deposit their tributes of love.

DECORATION NOTES.

Jacksonville did herself proud.

The Aniston boys are all stuck on Mayor Arnold.

Jacksonville generously entertained all the Aniston people who stayed in the city after the decoration of the state. Nothing, it appears to us, that has not actually transpired is more certain than that Captain Kolb does not now intend to abide the action of the organized party in the state. All over the state, charge is being made that the captain intends to disregard the action of the convention and run anyhow, provided he is not made the nominee. Neither the captain nor his friends deny this, therefore the issue is no longer Jones and Kolb, but it is Kolb and organized democracy. The thirdborn weren't in it.—Chattanooga Age-Herald.

Out for Jones.

The Opelika News, which has been a bitter assailant of the governor, says:

The time was in the present campaign when the issue was Jones and Kolb, but that phase of the race is past, and the issue now is simply Kolb against the organized democracy of the state.
